Elastic Felt Mattresses

Spring, summer, autumn and winter—at all seasons—they are the best, most satisfactory Mattress one can use.

But all this became known only after Miller & Rhoads had discovered that there was a vast difference in Felt Mattress quality and workmanship, and had set about to produce an article that measured up to their own ideals.

Now, in a thoroughly sanitary work shop, whose output we practically control, all Miller & Rhoads Mattresses are made.

We use only the best materials—first quality ticking and thick layers of pure elastic felt, the most luxurious resilient and durable mattress filling known. And by following carefully every stage of their construction—from fabric to finished article—we know our Mattresses are UN-USUAL VALUES, and our methods of securing them assure you of a lower price. them assure you of a lower price.
